I SHALL PASS THIS WAY BUT ONCE THEREFORE ANY GOOD THAT I CAN DO OR ANY KINDNESS THAT I CAN SHOW LET ME DO IT NOW FOR I SHALL NOT PASS THIS WAY AGAIN.

Before too long a whole host of so-called "full-employment" bills is going to be put out into the public arena. This is because of our floundering economy and a realization by almost all presidential aspirants that the nation's unemployment rolls will be the number one issue in the upcoming presidential campaign.

Joblessness, it appears, will mean some 10 to 12 million Americans are going to continue to reamin out of work for a long time. The President, while publicly enunciating his disapproval of this fact, promotes policies which are effectively stabilizing unemployment at around these levels. He is more concerned about fighting inflation than he is about fighting joblessness.

Clearly, this is a platform issue which both parties must address in their coming struggle over the presidency in 1976. The lines are pretty well drawn as evidenced a few weeks ago when Democratic Presidential hopefuls in Minneapolis dynamically articulated their support of a meaningful federal position on full employment. A most logical question, of course, is what is full employment and what are its necessary parts.

Full employment, as national policy, would be that condition in our economy where all able bodied persons who wanted to work would be able to find employment at fair wages and fair working conditions. Any significant full employment legislation, in my opinion, must definitely make this point without any shilly-shallying. Not only must this point be made, but the legislation must also include a federal guarantee that would insure this right to such employment bills, and include clear-cut machinery for the bill's implementation and built-in accountability for officials and agencies responsible for program administration.

As the Presidential campaign heats up, and as the debates become more and more rhetoric, we must not be fooled into believing that full employment as a realistic goal can survive campaign politics. Therefore, we must be on our guard to push for what will really put people back to work. We, as citizens, must push for our elected officials to stand up and be counted. Full employment is a worthy goal that can be attained. And I'm hoping that our elected officials will make it happen by being hard-nosed, critical and uncompromising in demanding that full employment legislation is passed. RIGHT ON!

AFRICAN-AMERICAN CULTURAL CENTER PLANNED FOR TACOMA

Wilson, a Tacoma resident, recently left the army to become project manager for the center.

Last September, the Metropolitan Development Council allocated Tacoma Community College's minority affairs office a $4,000 one-month planning grant for the establishment of an African-American Cultural Center.

The plans presented to the council by two other Tacomans, Jimmie Lee and Nora Howell, resulted in the allocation of an additional $13,000. Ron Wilson was subsequently hired.

"We're negotiating for a building right now," he said. "We should know soon where we'll be located.

"Our plans are still in the formative stages. But I see the center including family orientated activities for city residents. I would like to see a referral desk to give information about counseling and training. And we have a number of people who have volunteered to give various classes such as African dance, hair design and martial arts.

"It should be as much of a community Center as a cultural center."

Wilson pointed out that at present there is no single center to serve the African-American population in the Tacoma area.

"There are a lot of social and public services available in a variety of centers, but nothing to serve the unique needs of the African-American population."

"We hope to be able to serve all age groups from young children to senior citizens," Wilson said.

The success of Wilson's plans will depend largely upon the availability of additional funding sources and volunteer help.

The current phase of the project is funded by the metropolitan development council for one year.

"At the end of which, hopefully, we will have grants from other sources," Wilson added.

Wilson has had experiences in instructor, supervisor and counselor with the army. He is 26 years old, married and has one child.

He is vice-president of the Tacoma Council of Greeks and president of the Tacoma Champer to the Omega Psi Phi fraternity.

Ray Seales VS. South American Champ

Fresh from a two-round knockout of the formidable puncher, Mike Lankester, Seales, with a record of 24 wins and only two losses since he began his pro career three years ago with the Gold Medal signifying his world championship won at the Munich Olympics in '72, will meet Renato Garcia.

Garcia, just turned 23, has a career record of 32 wins and six losses, the first of which was administered in a close decision by Emile Griffith, middleweight contender and former world welder-and-middleweight champion.

Two other main events will match heavyweight Ibar Arrington of Everett against "Memphis" Al Jones, and Mike Lankester versus Nick Peoples.

Arrington, a strong, bull-like fighter won his biggest match on the Seales-Lankester card against a George Foreman sparring partner, Elmo Henderson, knocking out the more experienced man in the 2nd round.

Jones, a knockout puncher who a year ago kayoed Boone Kirkman in three rounds and left him unconscious for five minutes, expects to belt young Arrington out quickly.

Lankester hopes to push back into the middleweight picture with a comeback win over Peoples, an Akron, Ohio fighter whose rousing fights and crowd pleasing attributes tend to belie a career record of 15 wins and 17 defeats.

Global Productions, Ltd., promoter of the December 2nd card, will be seeking a second consecutive near-sellout within six weeks of its October card which drew 4800 paying fans.

"With Seales now established as a puncher as well as a boxer, we feel the triple 10-round lineup, putting three local favorites against three solid opponents from out of town, should have an even greater impact than our last card", said Joe Williams, Global President.

"The card really belongs in the Coliseum. It's the biggest lineup Seattle has had since we presented the Joe Frazier exhibition with a Boone Kirkman main event three years ago," Williams said.

The usual ticket outlets, including all Fidelity Lanes, are handling the advance, with prices ranging $7.50, $5.50 and $3.50, with a small V.I.P. offering of seats at $10.

The Tee and Turf Golf Club Holds 2nd Annual Banquet

The Tee and Turf golf club's 2nd Annual Banquet was held Saturday November 15 at the officers beach club, Ft. Lewis. The presentation of awards from the Spring Tournament and the club championship tournament to the winners and runner-ups was made.

Added to the presentation this year was THE FACTS Trophy, for the low net player in the Club's championship tournament. This trophy was presented to James Franklin by the TACOMA FACTS Office Manager, Mr. Jim Henderson.

The most improved golfer of the year 1975 was Benito Richardson.

The Home and Home trophy between the Leisure Hour and Tee and Turf Gold Clubs was presented to the incoming president Saul Arrington by Herbert Dailey, the outgoing president of the past two years.

Officers of the club for 1976 are: Saul Arrington, President; Charles Horn, 1st Vice-President; Mary Haralson, 2nd Vice-President; Alean Cunningham, Secretary; and Benito Richardson, Treasurer.

The membership renewal for 1976 is now being accepted and also new members. The next meeting, Dec. 4, 1975 at the Esquire Club, the new officers will be installed. All members are asked to be present.

Services Center Construction Continues

AN ECONOMIC Development Administration sign announces the jobs provided by the construction of the Urban League's Urban Services Center. Model Cities helped fund the project.

The frame for the Urban Services Center is going up as construction for the building continues on schedule.

The foundation has been layed and much of the frame for the two-story building has been constructed. When completed in May, 1976, the services center will house offices of the Tacoma Urban League and the City of Tacoma.

The Urban League's new office is being funded by a $50,000 investment from Model Cities funds, $391,000 from the Economic Development Administration, and about $50,000 from the Tacoma Urban League.

The City of Tacoma will lease about 700 square feet of the building for offices in return for the Model Cities investment. No decision has been made yet on what programs would be housed in the services center located at South 27th Street and Yakima Avenue.

Advisory Association Meeting Tonight

The Model Cities Advisory Association will hold its annual meeting and election tonight at 7:30 p.m. at McCarver Elementary School.

The main issue to be discussed is the future of the association after completing its official role with the city on Dec. 31, 1975. The association has served as an advisor to the Model Cities program through the Executive Board since the beginning of the Model Cities program. The association will try to decide what role, if any, it will play in the community after the Model Cities program ends in December.

Seven positions on the Executive Board will be filled by the annual election. Four present board members will be running for reelection. They are Leonard Baldwin, Anne Carter, Junior N.R. Ellis, and Hallie Russell.

Three additional vacancies will be filled by write-in candidates during the annual meeting tonight. Mayor Gordon N. Johnston has chosen not to reappoint the board members he appointed, so they will continue to serve until the end of Model Cities when the association can decide how to handle the appointed positions.

The doors of McCarver School will be open at 7 p.m. so those attending the meeting can sign in and pick up their ballots. The annual advisory association meeting is being held with the monthly meeting of the Model Cities Combined Task Force.

The annual meeting will include annual reports from Assistant Director Keith Palmquist and from board Chairman Junior N.R. Ellis.

Reading Tutoring Sponsored By Urban League

The Tacoma Urban League Cross-Age Tutoring Program (CAPT) is in it's third successful year of providing one-to-one tutoring for Tacoma junior and senior High School students at Hunt, Stewart, Truman, Foss, Lincoln and Stadium. The goal of CAPT is to pinpoint each student's reading level and markedly increase their reading and language skills.

Generally, college interns are used to provide training for students who perform the tutoring activities. As a result of this training, the tutor is able to provide relevant reading materials for the students being tutored (tutees). The basic concept of CATP is to train an older student to tutor a younger student.

Cross-Age Tutoring is available for any student with reading difficulties and THE PROGRAM IS OPEN FOR NEW ENROLLEES NOW!

If you know of anyone who can benefit from our services call 383-3007 or contact counselors at the program schools.

People Are Talking About...

Johnny and Patsy Guillory (husband and wife) are Professionals in the trade of Hair and Wig Styling. It all started ten years ago in Spokane, Washington where they both went to Beauty School. Johnny worked under his mother, who is a Professional Hair Stylist and has been for some twenty years. She taught him a lot of the "hot work" - pressing and curling hair. From there Johnny and Patsy decided to open their own salon named Lilac Terrace, and after being in Spokane for seven years they felt they had accumulated enough experience in the business world to relocate to a larger city where they could reach more people to share their talents. They have now been in Seattle for three years and have one of the largest Black owned salons in the Northwest.

As of November 1, 1975 they have opened a High Fashion Wig Salon in Tacoma, Washington. They have choosen the name Johnny Guillory, Unltd. Wig & Hair Styling Salon located at 3404 Rainier Ave. So., in Seattle, and Johnny Guillory, Unltd. High Fashion Wig Salon located at 1019½ So. 12th Street, in Tacoma, Washington.

Johnny and Patsy have not been too busy to take time out to have two handsome sons named John Basil Jr., 8 years, and Zarr Del, 7 years.

Last but not least, the two salons are going very well with the help of: Anita Wills/Receptionist, Rebecca Straw/Wig Stylist & Supervisor, Barbara Matthews/ Wig Stylist, Steve Lauritzen/Hair Stylist, Arturo Marquez/Hair Stylist, Tom Van Cleave/Janitor, Johnny Guillory/Master Hair Stylist, and Patsy Guillory/Manager.

Baha'i Faith — Baha'u'llah

The Great Being saith: Blessed and happy is he that ariseth to promote the best interests of the peoples and kindreds of the earth. In another passage He hath proclaimed: It is not for him to pride himself who loveth his own country, but rather for him who loveth the whole world. The earth is but one country, and mankind its citizens.

The Black Businessman of the Week

The Black Businessmen's Association is happy to announce their choice for Black Businessman of the Week. He is Mr. John W. Penton, owner of Penton's Studio at 1312 South Kay Street.

Mr. Penton is married and has two children. He is a member of the New Jerusalem Church of God in Christ, and is also a minister for the church. He is a member of the Black Businessmen's Association, is a notary for the state, a member of identification officers for the Police Department, and an international photographer for the youth department of the Church of God in Christ. He served in the Navy for four years.

He graduated from Olympic College with finger print identification, and has a diploma from the Institute of Applied Science, supervised by the by the Police Department. He is presently taking a bookkeeping and accounting course to help him in his business. In his spare time he enjoys swimming, tennis and basketball. Preaching is his innate vocation, it is what he enjoys most.

Mr. Penton runs his studio alone, with the help of occassional volunteers. His business slogan is "Service we give, and Quality we sell." He takes pride in taking pictures that capture the personality and the best of each person. His only problem in business is a lack of capital to operate. Not enough money for people inventory and hours to serve the people. But he hopes this will all improve soon.

His long range plans would be to have enough capital for a chain of studios over the state and have business going so well that we could preach. That would be the consummation of his plans.

Mr. Penton's advice to the community is to serve God and put God as the ultimate. God, through determination and persistence, will make you a success. Be satisfied with yourself, and wat you are doing, do it well and like what you are doing and you will be a success.

MCTF Membership Drive

The Minority Concerns Task Force will soon be conducting a membership drive. The purpose will be to raise funds for MCTF projects. At present MCTF is collecting donations of food and money to provide a Thanksgiving dinner to needy families in Tacoma. Donations can be brought to regular MCTF meetings from now until November 26th. Regular meetings are held every Wednesday morning at 8:00 at 1702½ Tacoma Ave. So. The November 12th meeting will feature two guest speakers, Ray Scott of the House of Scott Mortuary and Rev. Mitchell of the Hilltop Multi Service Center will be on hand to answer any questions that people may have. On November 26th MCTF will move to the Community House. This new location is at 1311 South M Street. All persons who are interested in attending MCTF meetings are welcome.

Housing Information Available

One of the services of the Community Development Department's Housing Unit available to Model Neighborhood residents is the information and referral service.

During the past quarter, the Housing Unit staff has referred 7 handicapped persons to housing, advised 10 persons on landlord-tenant problems, and referred 20 persons to the Handyman and Winterization programs.

Under the Housing Development Program of Model Cities, the staff gave advice on many housing problems, but the service will be expanded as the Community Development program progresses.

If you have a question related to housing, you can call 593-4660 for information.

Something To Think About

BY Barbara Henderson

Enough has been said about Brotherhood. Now it's time to concentrate on Sisterhood.

Whatever happened to that sweet relationship between black women? That closeness we used to feel each time we saw another black sister. Has it faded away like our childhood fantasies. Do we look at one another as enemies, as competition? What goes through your head every time you see a sister going down the street?

Though not related through blood we still have one common basis - our blackness.

Is sisterhood a nonexistent thing? We've got to ask ourselves this.

We must throw away all negative feelings about our sisters. We must come to the realization that each black woman has that special something that is vital to sisterhood. We should give our black sisters some long overdue respect.

Then the sisters can unify with the brothers and we'll have one big, happy family.

TACOMA COMMUNITY COLLEGE BASKETBALL SEASON BEGINS

The Bellevue Tip-Off tournament, November 28, 29 and 30, initiates the season for The Tacoma Community College hoopsters.

The Titans will meet Spokane Falls in the Bellevue Community College gym at 9 p.m., Friday, November 28.

Subsequent games will be determined by wins.

Competing in this year's tourney are teams from Bellevue, Mount Hood, Fort Steilacoom, Spokane Falls, Shoreline, Yakima and the Pacific Lutheran Junior Varsity.

Admission daily is two dollars for adults and $1.50 for students.

MRS. WALTER J. COX CHOSEN COORDINATOR

Mrs. Walter J. Cox, president of the Tacoma City Association of Colored Women's Clubs, and counselor at Tacoma Community College has been named coordinator for the National Convention of Colored Women's Clubs.

She was elected to the post by the Washington State Executive Board of the Association.

NAACP MEETING

There will be an NAACP Branch meeting, November 24th at 8 p.m. at the main library.

NORTH-WEST BOYS' CLUB SEEKS GYMNASIUM

The North-West Boys' Club wants to build a guynasium and activity center on Tacoma School District property, and their request for such a joint use project will be the principal item on the Tacoma School Board's agenda Thursday evening.

The board meeting will start at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the Central Administration Building. The board will hold a study session at 7:30 p.m.

The North-West Boys' Club will be represented by their executive director, Craig C. Lowry, who has asked to appear before the board to explain the proposal for placing a gymnasium, activity areas and other facilities on approximately two acres of the Mont Downing Elementary School site at N. 26th and Orchard St.

Other items on the agenda will include a report on the American International School in Lagos, Nigeria, by two of the Nigerian teachers who have been studying programs in the Tacoma School District for the past several weeks, and ratification of a negotiated contract for this year with the district's custodial union.

Young romance has a hard time in Alaska. When it's dark enough to park, it's too cold; when it's warm enough, the sun stays out all night.

News From National Guard

Seattle's two-year-old Army National Guard Armory saw a new station commander when full-time technician Richard N. Owens of Redmond stepped down October 31, after five years at 81st Infantry Brigade headquarters.

His successor, John Charles Bennett from Lacey, inherits the sprawling concrete structure north of Pier 91, Seattle's first permanent Armory since the Center House reverted to the City of Seattle.

An Amry Reserve lieutenant colonel, Owens was promoted this month to direct the state militia's Military Support to Civil Authority (MSCA) at the Guard's Camp Murray headquarters south of Tacoma. As MSCA director, Owens becomes responsible for liaison with local, county, regional, state and federal governmental bodies.

He caps 27 years in the Seattle area, which includes 11 years with Redmond's Second Missle Battalion, eight in the Third Missle Battalion, at Kent Armory's present location, and seven years a member of Kirkland's Anti=Aircraft Artillery Battalion.

Barnett returns to the Seattle area after spending four years at Olympia Armory as Staff Training officer for the 116th Support Center, Rear Area Operations (SCRAO), a back-up state headquarters. A former resident of Seattle's Richmond Beach, the 28-year veteran of Washington Army National Guard was a technician-member of the 41st Infantry Division Command and Support Battalion, now Seattle Armory's 181st Support Battalion.

FUND RAISING RAFFLE

A full winter's supply of choice and prime steak dinners awaits the first-prize winner in Seattle Composite Squadron's fund-raising raffle through November. A volunteer auxiliary of the U.S. Air Force, the Civil Air Patrol squadron has distributed raffle tickets through its two divisions of members -- cadet, 13 through 18 years old, and senior.

First prize, a side of grain-fed black Angus beef, from Roney River Ranch in Duvall, will be awarded at the squadron's regular Thursday night meeting December 4. Second prize is a 23-channel Citizens' Band radio, third prize a pocket electronic calculator.

Proceeds from the non-profit organization's raffle, according to squadron commander Richard A. Mullert, are "foremost among the few sources of revenue" for this flying-oriented volunteer group, headquartered in Boeing Field's south terminal building. "This money ends up primarily in our aerospace education program for our community's young people," he added.

Potential members and ticket buyers alike may contact the squadron at its 24-hour information phone, 762-6767, or attend a regular weekly meeting, each Thursday from 7 to 10 p.m.

SPECIAL OFFICIAL NOTICE TO REAL ESTATE BROKERS

HUD OWNED PROPERTIES AVAILABLE ON A "FIRST COME FIRST SERVED" BASIS

Attention is drawn to those following properties which have been previously listed for sale and are now available for immediate sale on a "first-come, first-served" basis. All purchase offers should be made through a licensed real estate broker of the purchaser's own choice. Purchasers should consult their real estate brokers for more complete details concerning the listed properties and for the proper procedures for submission of purchase offers. These procedures are also outlined in the monthly HUD Public Information Release, which is available to all approved brokers and the general public. Errors in these listings do not become official through publication. All data, including price, must agree with the files in the HUD Seattle office. Brokers may present purchase offers any time between 8:00 A.M. and 4:30 P.M., Monday through Friday to the Department of Housing and Urban Development, 500 Union Street, Seattle, Washington 98101.

REPAIRED AND PARTIALLY REPAIRED PROPERTIES

(NOTE: FHA-insured financing is available on the following listed properties, and any purchase offers must be submitted in accordance with outstanding instructions issued by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.)

Toll-Free Telephone Service for Food Stamp Information

OLYMPIA -- A toll-free telephone service is available statewide to give information about the Food Stamp Program in Washington State.

The number to call is 1-800-562-6060.

Recent federal legislation requires a food stamp outreach program be conducted to assist all persons potentially eligible for food stamps in learning about the program.

As an outreach effort, the telephone service begun November 14 will be continued for a minimum of three months on an experimental basis, according to Tom Ennis, supervisor, Outreach Resources, Office of Income Maintenance, Department of Social and Health Services.

Volunteers, assisted by paid staff, will answer the telephone from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. After 5 p.m. and on weekends, an automatic answering recording device will allow callers to leave name and number for follow-up. Informational brochures and application forms will be mailed on request.

Telephone personnel will answer general questions about food stamp availability. They will not, however, attempt to determine a caller's eligibility for the program. For that purpose, they will direct the caller to the DSHS Economic and Social Service Office within the caller's residential area, and give the telephone number for that office.

B.S.C. To Study Students' Skill Deficiencies

Tacoma Public Schools, District #10, has recently organized a Citizen's Basic Skills Committee to help answer this question:

WHY ARE THE READING, MATH AND LANGUAGE SKILLS OF TACOMA STUDENTS FALLING BELOW NATIONAL NORMS?

In the three meetings remaining in the 75-76 school year, the committee will propose answers to that question and identify ways for alleviating the problem. Their next meeting is scheduled for January 8, 1976. SO ADJOURNS TRUTH!

Often when young people decide to adopt a new dress code, their education is "ripped off".....they're expelled or suspended. So WHO decides whether education is important?

When teenagers want another class that hasn't been approved by officialdom, WHO decides whether education is important?

When pre-school babes want two hot dogs instead of one, WHO decides how many will fill that babe's tum?

The crass "rip off" of today is to tell young people that they have no right to expect or demand a relevant education.

How long will it be before young people, like women and minorities, will refuse to be suppressed and demand the right of a relevant education?

How long before kids will demand that their teachers have skills in relating to minority differences?

How long before kids will demand that teachers love themselves AND their work?

How long before kids will realize that they can demand that the tenure of teachers be subject to the consumer's (student's) approval?

How many teachers will want to issue physical punishment, go to class unprepared, or give out racial slurs, when kids are signing their paychecks?

Well, tomorrow's adults, WHERE ARE YOU? Are you ready to demand that universities do a better job of training your teachers? Can you envision petitioning upgraded standards for teacher certification? Can you imagine being on the interviewing team that selects your next English teacher, etc? Can you imagine electing students to the curriculum committee: Curriculum - what you get taught!

If tomorrows authors and politicians have time to respond to this article, please do! No one over nineteen need reply!

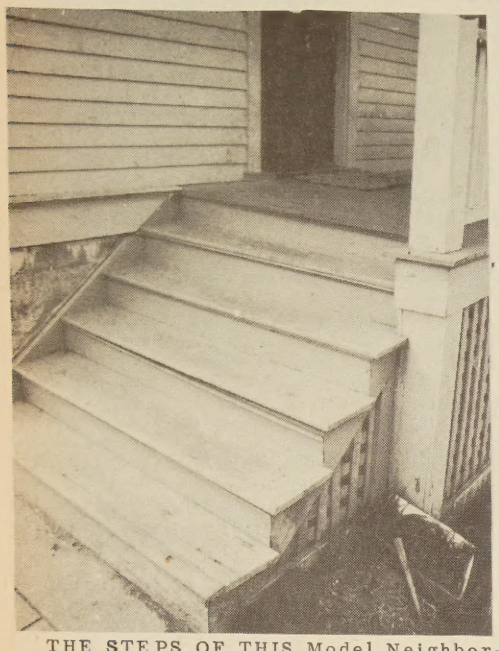
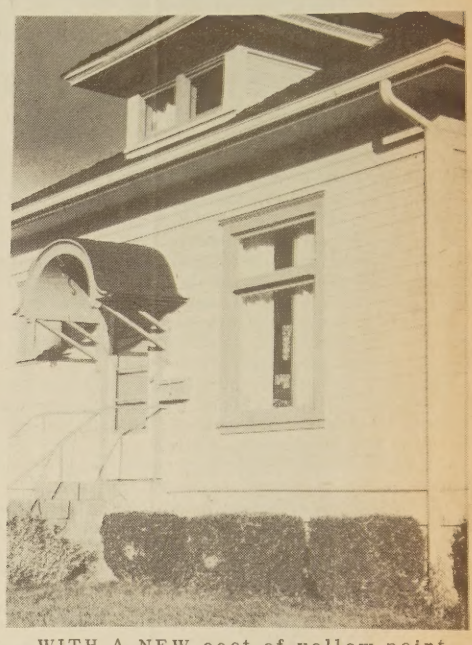
HOMES APPROVED FOR REHABILITATION



THE STEPS OF THIS Model Neighborhood home needed repairs prior to assistance from the Housing Development Program.

AFTER REHABILITATION THE steps have been repaired and a hand rail has been added for safety.

PRIOR to rehabilitation this home needed a number of repairs.



WITH A NEW coat of yellow paint, the home is an eye-catcher as you drive down the street.

Eight more homes were approved for rehabilitation this month under the Housing Development Program.

The Municipal Authority selected three contractors for the three jobs approved at the monthly meeting. Sarandos' Home Remodeling was selected for his low bid on job no. 20 with three homes, W.H. Buzzell was selected for job no. 21 with three homes, and Byers Home Improvement for job no. 22 with two homes.

Six homeowners were approved for rehabilitation grants and two were approved for loans.

One special request for a loan for materials was approved. One of the homeowners on the waiting list requested a loan for materials only, so he can do the labor on his own. This was the first request for materials only and was well received by the Municipal Authority board.

The Housing Development Program plans to have all remaining applications for home rehabilitation ready for bid by the end of November. That would allow the Municipal Authority to accept bids for all remaining Model Cities rehabilitation jobs before the first of the year. New applications have not been accepted since last summer when all available funds were committed. Additional funds were granted to the Municipal Authority for loans and grants, and all the applicants on the waiting list, when new applications were stopped, will be able to have their homes rehabilitated.

By the end of September, the Housing Development Program plans to have all remaining applications for home rehabilitation ready for bid by the end of November. That would allow the Municipal Authority to accept bids for all remaining Model Cities rehabilitation jobs before the first of the year. New applications have their homes rehabilitated.

By the end of September, the Housing Development Program had rehabilitated 51 homes in the Model Cities area.

Task Force to Give Food Baskets

The Law and Justice, Health, Social Services Task Force will give Thanksgiving food baskets to needy families again this year.

The task forcemembers have been collecting donations of food and cash for the project several months now. The baskets will be delivered early next week to needy Model Neighborhood families.

At the last task force meeting, Mel Jackson, director of Human Development, discussed some of his programs and some possibilities for assisting the task forces with projects after Model Cities ends. A representative from Sound Health explained Tacoma's health maintenance organization.

ANY MAN worth his salt has by the time he is forty-five accumulated a crown of thorns, and the problem is to learn to wear it over one ear.

Park Extension Explored

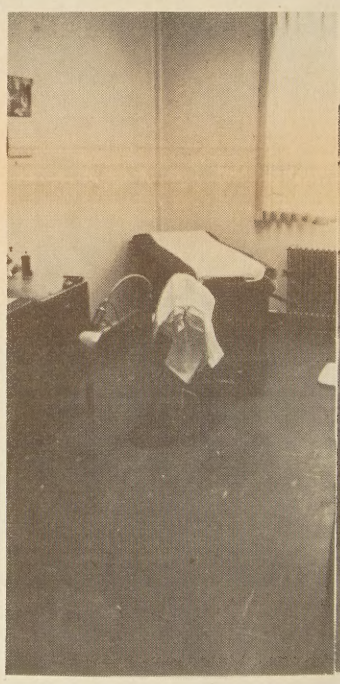
NEW TRASH RECEPTACLES have been installed in the 25th and Sheridan Mini-Park.

MODEL CITIES is exploring the possibility of purchasing the lot in the left of the picture to extend the 25th and Sheridan Mini-Park on the right.

The Community Development Department is continuing to explore the possibility of purchasing the property just north of the 25th and Sheridan Streets Mini-Park to extend the park.

Community Development is working on an agreement to purchase the property for $3500 for the park extension. Model Cities funds would be used for the purchase and demolition of the abondoned buildings on the site. Funds have not yet been identified for development of the park if the purchase is approved and completed.

Clinic Enjoys New Home



FAMILY CLINIC has three examination rooms similar to this one.

The Family Clinic has been enjoying a new, more spacious home for the past few months.

The clinic has moved from the old St. Joseph's Hospital basement to the St. Joseph's Hospital Annex. The annex is on J Street near 19th Street (in between the new and old hospitals). The new facility has several offices and three examination rooms.

Services have been expanded to include screening for Sickle Cell Anemia and testing for cervical cancer for women. The clinic is averaging about 265 patients a month for referrals to physicians and for its Friday evening clinic. The clinic helps patients, who are low-income, find a doctor who will give them continuing health care at partial or no fee.

ADVISORY ASSOCIATION

ANNUAL MEETING
ANNUAL ELECTION

NOV. 20 - MCCARVER SCHOOL - 7:30 p.m.

This is one of the most important Advisory Association meetings in years. The association will decide whether it will continue after Model Cities ends and what role the body will play in the community if it continues. Seven positions of the Executive Board will be filled during the meeting. Doors open at 7 p.m. for everyone to sign in and pick up a ballot.
